Issue notice. Learned Counsel for the Respondents accept notice.

They are granted 10 days' time to file a reply in the matter and to seek instructions.

The Petitioner who is present in person has argued before this Court that there is no proper set up to treat the cows that are dying on account of lumpy skin disease. He has also stated that the carcass of the cows that are dying on account of this disease are being disposed of in a crude manner which is hurting the religious sentiments of a large section of the society.

In light of aforesaid, as deaths of a large number of cows are taking place, the matter deserves to be heard at an early date.
